Darryl Gregory is like Bruce Springsteen, with great story songs and aptitude for rockers as well as softer ballads.

Happy Holidays Darryl,

I'm starting up my newsletter writing again - I sent one out earlier this month, but I didn't much care for the service I was using and so I went back to Constant Contact and using their wonderful formats.

So here we are in the holiday season. We'll be taking my son Tain to see Santa and our traditional trip into NYC to go skating at Rockefeller Rink and then dinner. I hope that your plans are full of family and friends, love and laughter.

On that note - what holiday would be complete without a Christmas song. I have made my arrangement of Silent Night available for FREE download until Dec. 26. Just click this link to Band Camp and download for free. This would make a nice virtual stocking stuffer as well. Just send the link to your friends/family and share my gift with them.

Unsigned Underground Podcast - Ep. 26

~ interview with Lauren Zettler

I understand that not a lot of you use Twitter or Facebook and thus may not have realized that I've resumed my podcast. I will announce new episodes in this newsletter and I hope that you can listen to the wonderful music I've found. Click here to listen to my interview with the talented Lauren Zettler. Please let people know - I have some great guests and fabulous music to share.

Lauren Zettler quit her day job. She now makes music her profession, her life and her passion. We can definitely hear that passion in the songs that she writes - the beautiful melodies, tricky harmonies and draw-you-closer arrangements that is her signature. Lauren was on a previous episode of Unsigned Underground but only as an example and not as a focus so I'm glad to have her on so we can get to talk about her music and her dream. I'm intrigued by her recent story and I can't get enough of her music and she's got a new Christmas Collection out on iTunes. Listen to our conversation about following your dream, picking the right people to work with and getting into the Christmas spirit.

Thanks for your support! I hope to see you soon so we can share some music together!

Music is one of the best ways to enjoy the present. It's not much fun to look forward to hearing music or to remember what a song sounded like last week, but music right now absorbs you and places you in the present moment.
